

Princess Street Promenade is taking it to the streets, again!

July 30th Princess Street closes to cars between Division and Ontario Streets.

Downtown Kingston! would like to invite everyone to take a stroll down the centre of Princess Street this Saturday, July 30th. From 10am to 6pm Princess Street will be closed to vehicular traffic from Division Street to Ontario Street for the Princess Street Promenade.

The promenade is a one day festival that promotes active living and community involvement in the downtown. Last year, side streets off of Princess remained open, but this year the Promenade will include closure of the side streets between Ontario St. and Division St. (with the exception of Ontario St., Bagot St. and Barrie St.) This expansion will better allow for the safe passage of pedestrians across side streets during the event.

This year Kingston Transit has joined in on the fun and is offering free transit all day on all routes! Buses will be detoured around Princess Street, so those heading downtown are encouraged to plan to get there by bus (considered a form of active transportation) using the Kingston Transit My Trip Planner at www.cityofkingston.ca/tripplanner.

Many of you will remember some of the amazing activities from last year and downtown businesses are sure to amaze again this year. With activities such as a climbing wall, hair styling, a "Try-Athalon" and face painting, there is something for every member of the family to enjoy.

Please note that vehicles left parked on Princess Street overnight July 29th or the morning of the 30th are subject to towing.
